Friday, Jan. 1

- Northside Middle School: A student has tested positive. After conducting contact tracing, we have identified no other close contacts. The student is now in quarantine and will return to school based on the protocols outlined here. As a reminder, household members of close contacts do not need to quarantine and can keep going to school. Quarantined students will continue with their schoolwork from home using our Schoology learning management system.
- Various schools: Ten different teachers and administrators tested positive over the winter break. After conducting contact tracing, there were no other school-related close contacts, but all are in quarantine and will return to school based on the protocols outlined here. As a reminder, household members of close contacts do not need to quarantine and can keep going to school. Quarantined students will continue with their schoolwork from home using our Schoology learning management system.
