- Grissom Elementary: A classroom aide has tested positive. After conducting contact tracing, we have identified nine other close contacts: seven students, a teacher and another aide. All involved are now in quarantine and will return to school based on the protocols outlined here. As a reminder, household members of close contacts do not need to quarantine and can keep going to school. Quarantined students will continue with their schoolwork from home using our Schoology learning management system.
